SURGICAL CONSENT FORM

Like you, our greatest concern is the well-being of your pet. Many conditions including disorders of the liver, kidney, or blood are only detectable through blood or urine screening. Such tests are especially important before any general anesthesia or surgery.

Unlike some clinics, we do not mandate these test be performed prior to your pet's procedure, but do highly recommend them. Our veterinarians may suggest other specific tests, in addition to routine screening, that may be appropriate for the age and condition of your pet. As an additional safety factor, placement of an intravenous catheter is preferred as well. The costs of these items are listed. To confirm that you have read and understand these recommendations, please initial those items listed below.

Please read this important educational message from:

1 in 3 pets will go missing during their lifetime.

There's no way to predict whether your pet will get lost. The local humane society is full of pets just like yours. Each year, 8 to 10 million pets stray. It's not just something that happens to certain types of pets or less attentive owners.

Losing a pet may be easier than you realize.

- Thunderstorms or fireworks can cause your pet to panic and flee
- Your pet could dig under a fence or bolt through an invisible fence and escape
- A child or handyman could accidentally let your pet out
- While travelling, your pet could wander into unfamiliar territory
- During an emergency, your pet could get lost in the turmoil

Microchipping may help your pet find the way home if it becomes lost.

In the US, 90% of lost pets won't return home without effective identification. Don't let this happen to your pet. With microchips, animal shelters are nearly 7 times more likely to find the owners of stray pets. A microchip is a permanent identification; unlike a collar, it cannot fall off or be removed. Microchipping is quick and can be implanted at any time.

Enrolling in the HomeAgain® microchip registry is the best chance of a happy homecoming.

With HomeAgain, more than 900,000 lost pets have come home. Membership also includes additional benefits.

- National lost pet recovery network
- Personalized Lost Pet Posters
- 24/7 Lost Pet Specialists
- 24/7 Emergency Medical Hotline
- Rapid Lost Pet Alerts
- Travel assistance for found pets
